

Rogue Pact License (RPL) v2

Created by RogueHashrate, 12-17-2025

The Rogue Pact License is a pact for sharing code: open, transparent, and collaborative. It exists to express a way of working together, not to impose strict control.

You are free to use, copy, modify, and distribute this software and derivative works, for any purpose, including commercial use.

If you redistribute this software or derivative works, acknowledgment of the original author is required. This can be as simple as a credit in documentation or source.

Sharing source code, publishing modifications, or contributing improvements is encouraged but optional. Private modifications do not need to be published.

This pact applies equally to all individuals and organizations. No special status, industry, or intent changes its meaning.

The author may grant exceptions or alternative terms if requested.
